Situation

West Mains is situated approximately half a mile South of the small and historic Conservation town of Callander.

A popular settlement in the East of the Loch Lomond & Trossachs National Park, Callander supports the surrounding rural hinterland with a greater range of services, including convenience stores, a petrol station, Tesco Express, Co-op, a nursery, a Primary School and a well regarded High School. The Main Street is populated with an eclectic mix of independent shops, cafes and restaurants, which attract both locals and tourists to the town. There is a medical practice and dental practice located in the town.

Further afield, Stirling offers all of the cultural attractions and leisure facilities which you would expect from one of Scotland's most established cities, including a shopping centre, a cinema and retail parks. The Loch Lomond and Trossachs National Park hosts a wealth of country pursuits and leisure activities. There are many hill walks amidst the impressive upland landscapes, with 21 Munros and 19 Corbetts, as well as a vast network of cycle tracks. A popular destination for both water sports enthusiasts and anglers, the park hosts 22 lochs, as well as the Rivers Endrick, Forth and Teith. The park's namesake, Loch Lomond is Scotland's largest body of fresh water and boasts opportunities for sailing, wind surfing and water skiing as well as an Aquarium. Lying within one mile of Brig O' Turk, Loch Venachar also has a sailing club. There is a plethora of scenic local golf courses, with clubs at Callander, Aberfoyle and Drymen, in addition to the prestigious holes of Loch Lomond Golf Club, situated within the National Park.

Despite its rural situation, Kilmahog is remarkably accessible. From nearby Callander, the A84 provides a direct route to Stirling, where there is access into Central Scotland's arterial motorway network, as well as a train station, with regular services to Glasgow and Edinburgh. The Glasgow Airport and Edinburgh Airport can both be reached in approximately one hour, assuming reasonable traffic, and offer flights to a comprehensive range of domestic and international destinations.

The Trossachs, which include several Munros and Corbetts are a short drive away boasting challenging routes for walking and climbing enthusiasts. Loch Lomond, part of Scotland's first National Park, is also nearby and is well known for its water sports including wind surfing, sailing and excellent water skiing. Fishing enthusiasts have the choice of Loch Lomond, the Lake of Menteith and the Rivers Endrick, Forth and Teith which run nearby.
